FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bristol, CT, January 23, 2006 – In a prepared statement, Mayor William T. Stortz announced the reformation of the Park Revitalization Committee.

“The Park Revitalization Committee, which has been working to address some of the physical needs of the Bristol park system, has been working on the issues for some time. Although it had been disbanded by former Mayor Gerard Couture, I felt there was a need to complete the effort”, Stortz said.

He went on to say, “While significant contributions were made by the original members, I have made some adjustments, hoping to elicit more citizen input for the final report. The makeup of the new committee has the following members: Christopher Cassin, Michael Hines, Andrea Kopchensky, David Mills, Debbie Schur and Ellen Zoppo-Sassu. All of those appointed did express interest and I am confident they will build on the earlier efforts.”

“It is gratifying to know that so many Bristol citizens are willing to serve. This will be even more evident as the reformation of other committees is announced.”
